Endometriosis Awareness Month MARCH 2023

Endometriosis New Zealand is Aotearoa's national endometriosis organisation, providing support, advocacy, research, information, education and awareness on endometriosis.

120,000 girls, women and those assigned female at birth are living with endometriosis in Aotearoa.

There is an average delay of 8 years in receiving a diagnosis with sufferers requiring on average 5 different doctor visits. The significant lack of information and education on endometriosis, means many sufferers have difficulty accessing treatment and managing the disease.

Today we are reaching out to you and other like-minded community-focused businesses for your involvement and support of the important work we do by becoming an Endometriosis Awareness Month corporate sponsor. Endometriosis Awareness Month takes place across the globe in March with a mission to raise the profile of a disease that affects an estimated 200 million worldwide.

Your sponsorship will improve the lives of those suffering with endometriosis and ensure that we can continue to provide support, information and education to thousands of people living with this common inflammatory disease.
